

Happy New Year!
Wishing you all the best in 2007

Annual Provincial Water Safety Conference AGM & Competition - Moose Jaw

The Lifesaving Society's annual Provincial Water Safety Conference and AGM will be held this year in Moose Jaw on March 24th. The conference will be held in conjunction with the Provincial Lifeguard / Lifesaver Competition which will take place Friday, March 23rd.

Affiliates and members can expect the registrations forms in mid January. Some exciting sessions will be presented this year including teaching Lifesaving Society courses to people with disabilities and many others! Stay tuned for more information about the conference, new sessions and the competition!

Dates to Remember

- Provincial Lifeguard/Lifesaving Competition - March 23rd, Moose Jaw
- Provincial Water Safety Conference & AGM - March 24th, Moose Jaw

Attention Affiliates & Lifesaving Instructors!!

Affiliates:

Just a reminder to all affiliates to send in all remaining test sheets from 2006. We will be calculating the points for affiliate awards in January so send in those test sheets as they will count toward your point total.

Also, remember to fill out and resubmit your 2007 Affiliate Agreement forms as soon as possible.

Lifesaving Instructors:

As you know, the new CPR guidelines are now in effect. All Lifesaving Society courses should now be taught using the new CPR guidelines. All Lifesaving Instructors should have received a package in the mail outlining the changes and the process in which to update.

CPR updates were due by December 1, 2006. However, if you haven't updated yet or did not receive a package, please call the office as soon as possible 306-780-9255.

Updates will still be accepted as Lifesaving Instructors should not be teaching Society courses without updating first.

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to call the office!
